

Helping People through Separation and Divorce

The Collaborative Law Process

Seminar Overview

Charmaine Panko, Collaborative Lawyer from Miller Thomson LLP, Wendy Johnston, CFP, CDFA from Next Step Financial Solutions Inc. and Darla Tenold, Mediator, will be presenting on dispute resolution processes that can be used to prevent and reduce the impact of separation and divorce on all parties involved.

Who Should Attend

This seminar is designed specifically for financial specialists, planners, and investment advisors, to demonstrate how the collaborative law process can:

- Help your clients save money. Litigation is expensive, time consuming, and “eats up” client assets.
- Increase client retention. Being part of a collaborative team supports a referral process that saves you time and builds resources while developing your clients’ confidence and trust in your services.
- Grow the value of your portfolio. When families separate or divorce there are often large settlement dollars available for investment.
- Create peace of mind for you and for your client. You can rest assured that your clients’ needs are being served in this interest-based model.

Client Feedback

- “This seminar was personal, authentic, honest and value driven.”
- “Thank you! This was excellent information.”
- “Thank you for this time. It’s wonderful to know there are resources/help for people. You are doing an awesome job!”
- “Worth its weight in gold!!”
