Biography

Bryan is a member of Miller Thomson's Corporate Law group with a focus on mergers and acquisitions, project financing, and energy projects law. Bryan's experience with Miller Thomson includes assisting with transactions in which Miller Thomson represented vendors, purchasers, borrowers, lenders, and project developers. From the initial meeting with a client to the closing of a transaction, Bryan's focus is on achieving the client's objectives in an efficient and timely manner, never sacrificing quality of representation and service to the client.

Prior to joining Miller Thomson, Bryan obtained his Juris Doctor degrees from the University of Windsor and the University of Detroit Mercy and his Honours Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Ottawa.
