Biography

Emmanuelle Gascon practices in the area of family law in the Montréal office. She joined the firm after completing her articles during which she worked on a wide variety of matters related to this field.

During her law studies, Emmanuelle was able to combine work, studies and student involvement. In particular, she volunteered for the national student pro bono network. Interested by the concept of alternative dispute resolution, she also joined the mediation clinic of the Université de Montréal where she worked on the creation and facilitation of information sessions on mediation in high schools.

Prior to articling at Miller Thomson, Emmanuelle accumulated various professional experiences in family law and youth law.
