

Erin Craddock

Associate Counsel

Toronto

OFFICE

416.595.8631

ecraddock@millerthomson.com

Industries & Expertise

EXPERTISE

Restructuring & Insolvency | Commercial Litigation

Biography

BAR ADMISSION

Ontario, 2012

New York, 2009

EDUCATION

- J.D. (magna cum laude), Cornell Law School, 2008
- B.A. (Honours), University of Toronto, 2005

Erin Craddock's practice involves protecting and advocating for the interests of stakeholders in insolvency proceedings and commercial litigation. With a background covering various industries such as financial services, telecommunications, long-term care, manufacturing, construction, cannabis, and oil and gas, Erin brings a wealth of experience representing clients in top courts across Canada.

Outside of her legal practice, Erin's work as a co-author and instructor. Her involvement in various speaking engagements showcase her commitment to continuous learning in the industry.

Before her tenure at Miller Thomson, Erin honed her skills in national and international firms, showcasing her knowledge in cross-border insolvency issues. Erin's professional affiliations demonstrate her commitment to staying current with legal trends and fostering a strong network within the legal community.

Industry involvement

Thought leadership

- Co-Author, Canada Chapter of Restructuring and Insolvency 2020, Getting the Deal Through, November 2019
- Instructor, International Insolvency Law, University of Toronto Global Professional Master of Laws, 2015 – 2019
- Speaker, "Changes to Handling Construction Project Issues: Things to Know for 2019", International Municipal Lawyers Association's 83rd Annual Conference, 2018
- Speaker, "Municipal Taxes in Insolvency Proceedings" International Municipal Lawyers Association's 82nd Annual Conference, 2017

Community roles

- Volunteer, Ontario Bar Association's Law Day

Memberships & affiliations

- Canadian Bar Association
- The Advocates' Society