Biography

Mike Henley is a partner with a corporate commercial practice. He also has expertise in residential and commercial real estate transactions. During Mike's previous experience in the pharmaceutical industry, he worked for one of Canada's largest pharmaceutical companies where his focus was on business development and brand management. He also acted as manager of government relations; in this capacity he dealt with provincial governments on issues of reimbursement for ophthalmic products across Canada.

Mike's pharmaceuticals experience, as well as his further professional experience in banking and finance, gives his legal practice a business-driven focus appreciated by his corporate clients.
