Biography

Christine Thompson is a paralegal in Miller Thomson LLP's Vancouver office. Christine works in the litigation department, primarily with insurance defence lawyers. The nature of her practice is largely personal injury-related actions on the defence side. However, she also works on construction litigation matters, property and casualty claims, occupier's liability, and subrogated claims matters.

Prior to becoming a certified paralegal in May 2006 through part-time studies at Capilano University, Christine was a legal assistant in Miller Thomson LLP's Vancouver office from 2001 to 2006, obtaining her certificate through Douglas College in 1990.
