Biography

Janis has over 19 years of experience in administrative roles in the legal industry.

After joining Miller Thomson's litigation department in Regina in 2013 as a litigation legal assistant, Janis began developing her skills in electronic document management (eDiscovery).

In early 2019, Janis joined Miller Thomson's national eDiscovery team as a Case Manager. In this role, she strives to provide lawyers and clients with the highest quality work product using efficient and cost-effective solutions tailored to the specific case needs. Janis's knowledge and experience in civil procedure combined with an aptitude for applications allow her to help bridge the litigation process and technology.

Janis is passionate about sharing knowledge and enjoys providing training/tutorials to lawyers and clients ensuring they have the skills needed to navigate their document databases.

Prior to specializing in eDiscovery, Janis worked in many areas of law including commercial litigation, family law, personal injury, residential real estate, wills and estates, and corporate record maintenance. This varied experience continues to provide Janis with a solid knowledge base to draw from in preparing eDiscovery Case Management strategies.
