Biography

Jérôme joined the Construction Law team in September 2023, after completing his articling at Miller Thomson. He works in both construction and commercial litigation.

Jérôme obtained his law degree from the Université de Montréal in 2022 and was admitted to the Quebec Bar in 2023. He also holds a certificate in political science, with distinction, also from Université de Montréal, and an international bachelor's degree in economics from Collège Jean-de-Brébeuf.

Professional achievements & leadership

During his law studies, Jérôme contributed to Le Pigeon dissident, the Université de Montréal Faculty of Law's student newspaper, where he regularly published columns on politics, society and student issues. In his third year, he became the paper's editor-in-chief.
