Biography

Jesse M. Wray is an associate lawyer in the Business Law Group at Miller Thomson. He has experience in supporting clients with their corporate and commercial needs, such as private mergers and acquisitions, corporate reorganizations, secured lending, and estate planning. Before joining Miller Thomson, Jesse worked at a boutique solicitors firm, specializing in corporate commercial law.

Jesse prioritizes delivering innovative and practical solutions for clients' business law matters. In particular, Jesse understands the necessity to be able to adapt to new and evolving circumstances that a client may experience, while in the meantime keeping the client's principal objectives and goals at the forefront.
