Biography

Kevin Refah is a Partner in the Toronto office of Miller Thomson LLP. His practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions, corporate finance, corporate governance and regulatory compliance matters. He is a member of Miller Thomson's Mergers and Acquisitions Group and Business Law Group.

Kevin frequently advises clients in connection with the acquisition and divestiture of shares and assets, including cross-border transactions. He counsels founders, executives, boards of directors, financial institutions, investment banks, family offices, venture and private equity principals and other enterprises on a wide range of issues, including business strategy, capital raises, board governance, general corporate counseling, complex business disputes and various types of corporate and commercial transactions.

Kevin's practice has a particular focus on the technology and healthcare sectors.

Kevin considers it a top priority to provide additional value for his clients beyond traditional legal advice and services. One of the ways in which Kevin does so is by leveraging his extensive network to facilitate strategic introductions, originate deals, and generate revenue for his clients, referral sources and other partners.
