Biographie

(Disponible en anglais seulement)

Allison is a recent graduate of Queen's University Faculty of Law. Prior to law school, she completed an Honours Bachelor of Science at the University of Toronto, Trinity College, where she completed majors in neuroscience and psychology.

During law school, Allison pursued her interests by competing in the Davies' Corporate/Securities Law Moot and completing the International Business Law program at the Bader International Study Centre. She also volunteered for Pro Bono Students Canada, served on the Editorial Board of the Queen's Law Journal as the Managing Editor of Articles and the Co-Managing Editor of the Style Guide, and participated in the teaching team for Queen's Certificate in Law Program's Corporate Law course as a teaching assistant. Moreover, she continued her involvement in the Asian community by serving as the Co-President of the Queen's Asian Law Students' Association.

In her spare time, Allison enjoys exploring the city with friends, cooking new recipes, and spending time with her cat.
