As a member of our eDiscovery Services group, Tracy provides electronic evidence and e-trial support at the national level. She uses technology to assist clients in developing strategies to cull data and assist with evidence preservation, collection and overall document management.

Tracy supports our firm in:

- eDiscovery: Tracy's varied litigation experience includes complex securities litigation, class actions, and multi-party construction matters. Many of her cases involve the review and production of voluminous documentary evidence.
- e-Trials: Tracy assists our lawyers in administering Miller Thomson's electronic trials platform.

Tracy has over 20 years' experience in legal with a focus on the use of technology and eDiscovery. Prior to joining the firm in 2016, Tracy worked in similar capacities in both e-discovery and litigation support management roles. She also has experience in project management and with multiple database applications. Tracy holds a number of software certifications and is a certified e-discovery specialist (CEDS).

Tracy is an active member of the steering committee of the BC Litigation Support Professionals.
