Miller Thomson Formally Launches ESG and Carbon Finance Practice

Toronto, ON, Jan. 16, 2023 – With clients actively transforming their businesses to address climate change, sustainability, diversity and inclusion, enhanced governance transparency and other issues of societal consequence, Miller Thomson LLP (“Miller Thomson”) announces the formal launch of its national ESG and Carbon Finance practice.

The Firm has formalized its ESG and Carbon Finance by appointing Partners P. Jason Kroft (Toronto) and Bruno Caron (Montreal) as co-Chairs. With an interdisciplinary team of lawyers from across the firm’s 10 offices who practice in areas such as, M&A and Corporate Strategy, Capital Markets and Securities, Environment, Social Impact, Labour and Employment, Tax, Real Estate and Litigation, the ESG and Carbon Finance Group has a long history in advising and supporting clients across a range of industries on all aspects of environmental, social and governance issues, helping them seize opportunities and mitigate climate change risks in this complex and evolving area of law.

The complete list of services offered by the Miller Thomson team can be found on the firm’s overview of the ESG and Carbon Finance practice.

“Miller Thomson’s national, multi-disciplinary platform in ESG and Carbon Finance was a key reason for my move to the firm”, says Partner P. Jason Kroft. “The professionals across the country at Miller Thomson are among the very best in their fields. Miller Thomson has unparalleled expertise and experience to provide the practical advice in all of the areas of ESG that clients care deeply about.”

“With the aggregation of the firm’s long-standing expertise involving the three pillars of ESG and our Carbon Finance skill sets under a common umbrella, our clients now have a single entry point to discuss their sustainability-related issues,” adds Partner Bruno Caron.

Miller Thomson has advised on many ESG and Carbon Finance matters of importance throughout Canada.
