Gabriel Dubois practices in business law, advising companies, shareholders and investors on a broad range of corporate and commercial matters, with a particular focus on mergers and acquisitions, strategic transactions and private equity. He works closely with clients to understand their business objectives and provides practical and strategic advice throughout the lifecycle of their businesses and transactions.

Gabriel advises clients on acquisitions, divestitures, investments, corporate reorganizations and other strategic transactions, including domestic and cross-border matters. He represents purchasers, sellers, investors and businesses across a variety of industries, helping them navigate complex transactions and manage the legal considerations associated with their business objectives.

Gabriel also advises clients on corporate and commercial matters, including corporate structures, shareholder arrangements and other matters arising in the course of their operations. He takes a practical and business-minded approach to his practice, with a focus on providing clear advice and effective solutions tailored to each client's needs.

Industry involvement

Notable matters

- Represented a Quebec-based manufacturing company in connection with a majority investment by a private equity firm, as well as the acquisition of a European aerospace business.
- Represented a holding company in its acquisition of a Quebec-based injection molding and precision manufacturing business serving a range of industrial sectors. The transaction supported the target's continued modernization, expanded production capacity, and investments in talent development, technology, and sustainable manufacturing practices.
- Represented a privately held U.S. specialty vehicle manufacturer in its acquisition of a leading North American ambulance and emergency vehicle group. The transaction further strengthened the acquirer's position in the commercial and specialty vehicle manufacturing sector.
- Represented the shareholders of a Quebec-based engineering consulting firm providing materials engineering, geotechnical, environmental, and building science services in the sale of a majority interest to a European engineering group.
- Represented a leading Quebec investment fund in the sale of a regional shopping centre to a real estate developer.
