Jeremy maintains a dynamic commercial litigation practice focused on efficiently solving clients' problems. His clients range from multinational corporations to small businesses and individuals with everyday issues.

Despite being early in his career, Jeremy has extensive litigation experience, including in the Ontario Small Claims Court, Superior Court, the Toronto Commercial List, Divisional Court, the Court of Appeal, and various Tribunals. He has handled all stages of litigation, from motions and examinations to trials, arbitrations, and appeals. Jeremy handles disputes in a wide variety of practice areas, including construction law, real estate disputes, securities litigation, bankruptcy, shareholder claims, nuisance claims, insurance, and other general commercial matters.

Jeremy's background includes private practice and in-house insurance defence roles, and small litigation boutique experience, where he learned to thrive while managing a demanding and broad practice. Jeremy leverages these diverse experiences into an ability to serve a wide variety of clients.

Jeremy is an active member of The Advocates Society, regularly attending events and offering his services and insights to the organization. Outside of work, he enjoys performing in cover bands across Toronto and the GTA, playing hockey, fishing, and spending time with his family.
