Leslie Schwartz is a Litigation Paralegal in Miller Thomson LLP's Vancouver office. With many years of experience in all levels of court, she works with lawyers in the Litigation department on matters covering a wide variety of civil litigation practice areas, including personal injury, commercial, and construction. Leslie assists with a broad range of tasks across the life of a matter, from drafting pleadings and motion materials to discovery and trial preparation. However, she is most often involved in evidence management, electronic discovery, and specialized databases.

From intricate document-intensive cases to simple insurance claims, Leslie's expertise shines through in every aspect of litigation support.
