Lorraine Rinas works as a Litigation Paralegal at Miller Thomson LLP's Edmonton location. With a wealth of experience in civil litigation covering construction law, product liability, and personal injury cases, Lorraine is efficient and well-versed in civil procedure rules. She handles document preparation, analysis, and trial readiness for medium to complex litigation matters, focusing on document management and e-discovery. Lorraine reviews and analyzes large volumes of documentary evidence and prepares and manages all of the evidence in each case. Lorraine's past work experience includes managing and displaying evidentiary documents during an extensive electronic trial, and working with the federal government. In the legal field since 1985, Lorraine is a dedicated professional who strives to provide the highest quality of service to clients.
