Mario joined the Miller Thomson civil and commercial litigation team in January of 2025. He handles a variety of cases across several industry sectors. Mario's clientele includes individuals and Québec and international businesses which he represents before Québec courts and in amicable settlements.

In keeping his clients' interests at the heart of his practice, Mario defends their rights rigorously and effectively. He prioritizes personalized legal solutions tailored to every situation, while exemplifying the core values of integrity and transparency.

Mario holds a Bachelor of Laws from the Université de Montréal and is currently pursuing a Juris Doctor in North American common law. Through his passion for sports, scouting, and outdoor activities, he has cultivated discipline and resilience within himself: two qualities that enrich his practice.
