Ravalika Palle is building a broad commercial litigation practice, assisting clients across a range of complex disputes. Her experience includes motions, examinations for discovery, mediations and hearings. Ravalika prioritizes delivering practical, client-focused solutions on every file.

Ravalika began her career at Miller Thomson as a summer student in 2024 and completed her articles with the firm in 2025/2026. During articling, she was seconded to the General Counsel's Office at EY, where she supported the in-house litigation team.

During law school, Ravalika was a student caseworker at Queen's Legal Aid, where she successfully led a hearing before the Social Benefits Tribunal. She also competed as an oralist in the Immigration, Refugee and Citizenship Law Moot, earning awards for top oralist team, top law school, and best factum.
